

Endowed Gifts

Each year we rely on your generous support, along with the gifts of many others, to help us carry out our work.

But did you know you can support Idaho Botanical Garden even after you pass away by leaving an endowed gift—an enduring statement of your support?

How It Works

When you make an endowed gift, your contribution is invested with and becomes part of our endowment. An annual distribution is made for the purpose you designate. Because the principal remains intact, the fund will generate support in perpetuity.

You can give cash, securities or other assets to an endowment you create. Or, you can contribute to our organization's already established endowment.

Minimum gift sizes and spending levels vary by organization. Gifts to an endowment named after you or a loved one may require a higher minimum.

How your planned gift supports the Garden

Your gift can help the Garden in many ways. Planned gifts ensure the continued growth of the Idaho Botanical Garden and its mission to provide a full garden experience for all ages through plant collections, education programs, and community events. You may choose to dedicate your gift to a specific Garden feature, project or program. Naming opportunities are also available where you may wish to tribute your gift in your name or the name of a loved one. The Idaho Botanical Garden honors those who have made planned gifts through membership in the Garden Legacy Society which supports the Garden's growth and vitality from one generation to the next by contributing to our future. Please contact us to discuss how you would like your planned gift to support the Garden for years to come.

We Can Help

Contact Jennifer Dunmire at 208-387-2760 or jennifer@idahobotanicalgarden.org with any questions about naming Idaho Botanical Garden in your will or living trust. We're happy to help, without obligation.